

intrigue desking

intrigue is an attractive, lightweight beam system combining flexibility and utility.

the system has been developed using as few components as possible, all of which are specific to the system, making intrigue easy to specify, build, use and upgrade.

the combination of beam, post and leg at the heart of intrigue has many standard features which reduce hidden costs. the height adjustable leg is non-handed to facilitate reconfiguration.

the beam provides rigidity within the system, has ample cable management capacity and allows power/data cabling between workstations.
