

visual desking

the visual beam desking range maintains the traditional attention to quality and detail which verco has established a reputation for..

graphite or silver metal cantilever leg frames include height levellers as standard, and can be shared between desks, keeping components to a minimum whilst improving the structural integrity.

a choice of three finishes: oak, beech and maple, are complimented by the silver legs and detailing throughout the range.

flexible enough to meet your every requirement, yet simple enough to change according to the needs of today's fast moving office environments.
